

- A book coming out as a movie or tv show in 2018:

- A biography, autobiography, memoir, or a fictionalized account of a real person's life:

- A book about or that features sports:

- A book of poetry or a book written in verse:

- A book you previously started or were assigned and never finished:

- A book that takes place in a country or place you'd like to visit:

- A book you chose for the cover: _____
- A book that takes place during or is about a historical event 50 years or more in the past [1968 or before]:

- A popular science book: _____
- A book that contains a supernatural creature, occurrence, or event:

- A book about cooking or food: _____
- A book suggested by a Durham Tech librarian either in-person or on the Durham Tech Library Blog:

Read Great Things Challenge FAQ

1. How do I participate in the Read Great Things Challenge?
It's pretty simple— decide you want to participate and just start reading! You don't have to sign up and you can start at any point in the year. You'll need to choose books that fit into at least 10 of the 12 categories by the end of Fall Semester (December 2018) to complete the challenge.
2. What types of books count?
Hardcover, paperback, ebooks, audiobooks, graphic novels, comic books, library books, books you own, books you've borrowed— all books count!
3. Can I count a book for multiple categories?
One book can count for up to two categories.
4. How do I win the challenge? (What do I win?)
To win and complete the challenge, you should finish books that fit into at least 10 of the 12 listed categories. In late November or early December, we'll have bookish prizes available for those who bring their completed booklist to the library.
5. Do the books have to be from the Durham Tech Library?
Nope, but we're glad to point you in the direction of one already in our collection. We do have some great books just waiting to make it on your list.