DURHAM TECH LIBRARY
READ GREAT THINGS
CHALLENGE 2019

☐ A book that will help you with one of your personal goals: _____

☐ A book by or about someone you admire: _____

☐ A social science book [nonfiction books about society and the relationships among individuals within a society, including psychology, sociology, anthropology, economics, political science, history, public health, and communication books, among others]: _____

☐ A book published in the decade you were born: _____

☐ An epistolary book or a book that contains epistolary parts [a book written using diary, journal, newspaper, or letter entries]: _____

☐ A book you've been putting off but—you swear!--you really do want to read:
_____

☐ A reimagining of a classic tale or work of literature: _____

☐ A book about or that features college or higher education: _____

☐ A book about an immigrant or immigration: _____

☐ A book about technology: _____

☐ A book by a North Carolina author or that takes place in North Carolina:
_____

☐ A book suggested by a Durham Tech librarian either in-person or on the Durham Tech Library Blog:
_____

READ GREAT THINGS 2019 CHALLENGE FAQ

1. How do I participate in the Read Great Things Challenge?

   It's pretty simple— decide you want to participate and just start reading! You don't have to sign up and you can start at any point in the year. You'll need to finish reading books that fit into at least 10 of the 12 categories by the end of Fall Semester (December 2019) to complete the challenge.

2. What types of books count?

   Hardcover, paperback, e-books, audiobooks, graphic novels, comic books, library books, books you own, books you've borrowed— all books count!

   We're not here to judge or assign reading levels either—books are books.

3. Can I count a book for multiple categories?

   One book can count for up to two categories, so if you read strategically, you can complete the challenge by only reading 5 books in total.

4. How do I win the challenge? (What do I win?)

   To win and complete the challenge, you should finish books that fit into at least 10 of the 12 listed categories. Mid-December, we'll have bookish prizes available for those who participated and completed the challenge—keep your eyes on the blog for details.

5. Do the books have to be from the Durham Tech Library?

   Nope, but we're glad to point you in the direction of one already in our collection and help you fulfill the final checklist item. We do have some great books just waiting to make it on your list!